

The Washington Times editorialized today on Congressman Pence's bid for House Republican Conference Chairman. Here is an excerpt:

Mr. Pence is one of the most sensible and intelligent spokesmen for conservative principles. He is leading the fight for a law to defend the First Amendment from the reintroduction of the Fairness Doctrine in the communications markets. He correctly led the charge against the bloated Medicare Prescription Drug Bill. Mr. Pence is also not afraid to step across the aisle to do the right thing, as he did when he joined former Maryland Democratic Rep. Al Wynn to increase campaign contribution limits.
